

Selma Sumaya Awumbila

Ghana Grid Company Limited
Senior Legal Counsel

Selma Sumaya Awumbila is a lawyer with extensive experience in the energy sector of Ghana. She currently works as Senior Legal Counsel at the Ghana Grid Company Limited, a power transmission company in Ghana. Selma is also a Consulting Partner for Corporate and Commercial Transactions at M&O Law Consult (a private full service law firm in Ghana). She has experience in corporate law, energy law, human rights law, environmental law, labour/employment law and land law.

Selma undertook her masters studies in International Environment and Resources Policy at the Graduate School of International Cultural Studies at Tohoku University where she is currently enrolled as a PhD student at the Graduate School of Law. She is passionate about equality and equity in the energy sector and believes that “energy poverty” is the greatest barrier to national development in Africa.
