

Lihui Wang is a Chair Professor of KTH, Sweden. His research is focused on human-robot collaborative assembly and brain robotics. Professor Wang is the Editor-in-Chief of Robotics and Computer-Integrated Manufacturing, Journal of Manufacturing Systems, and International Journal of Manufacturing Research. He has published 11 books and authored in excess of 700 scientific publications. Professor Wang is a Fellow of Canadian Academy of Engineering (CAE), International Academy for Production Engineering (CIRP), Society of Manufacturing Engineers (SME), and American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME). He was the President (2020-2021) of North American Manufacturing Research Institution of SME, and the Chairman (2018-2020) of Swedish Production Academy. Professor Wang was elected one of the 20 Most Influential Professors in Smart Manufacturing in 2020, and the Gold Medal recipient from Society of Manufacturing Engineers in 2024.